COMMENTS FROM THE TOWN MANAGER'S OFFICE

A petition signed by forty-four voters has been presented to the Selectmen requesting the construction of a public sewer on Evergreen Road. The petition will be taken up for consideration at the next meeting of the Selectmen.

J. Elliot Hale, a water engineer, has been employed to make recommendations and provide costs of installing a water system at West Bethel Village.

At the July 30th meeting of the Selectmen it was voted to issue a junk yard license to Bennett's Garage, to maintain a junk yard on Route 2.

For several years it has been necessary to borrow a typewriter from Gould Academy to type the tax commitment. This work requires a long carriage machine and although the school has been generous in loaning their machine it was considered advisable to purchase a new 16 inch machine. The old machine has been sold which leaves a net expenditure for the new machine of $145.00.

State Aid construction on the Middle Intervale road with Joe Radcliff as foreman, and Oscar Ann's as sub-foreman is progressing very satisfactorily.

The following amount of surplus food was distributed during July: dry milk 300 lbs., flour 680 lbs., corn meal 65 lbs., rice 86 lbs., dried eggs 49 cans. Notice has been received that there will be no more butter available.

Sincerely,
Harold L. Bean

WHY DO WITHOUT

THESE BIG CHEVY VIRTUES!

bigger brakes

Bigger, yes, and built with bonded linings for as much as 66% longer life. And how's this for proof that Chevy's a real stopper: In a NAS-CAR* conducted test of repeated stops from highway speeds, Chevrolet outstopped both of the "other two" times after time.

*National Association for Stock Car Advancement and Research.

award-winning engines

The NASCAR Outstanding Achievement award goes to Chevrolet! Chevy wins for "the creation and continuing development of America's most efficient V-type engines . . . for the establishment of new levels of V8 compactness combined with outstanding smoothness." And you can choose among eight V8's and the Six that won the Mobilgas Economy Run for its class.

full coil ride

You're the expert on ride, so you'll want to try Chevy's easygoing smoothness for yourself. MOTOR TREND magazine can give you a hint of what you're in for: " . . . the smoothest, most quiet, softest riding car in its price class." And Full Coil springs, of course, never squeak, never need grease.

fresh styling

POPULAR SCIENCE magazine gave Chevy's styling a thoughtful look, then said it this way: "In its price class, Chevy establishes a new high in daring styling . . ." You'll find your own happy way of saying that Chevy's the only unmistakably modern car in its class.

greater roominess

Automobile Manufacturers Association records carry the facts on this. In a Chevy sedan, for example, you've got more front seat head room than all but one of the high-priced cars! And Chevy's front seat hip room spreads up to 5.9 inches wider than comparable cars.

bigger savings

Here's solid proof that Chevrolet squeezes more miles out of a gallon: In the famous Mobilgas Economy Run, two Chevrolet sixes with Powerglide took the first two places in their class. Winning mileage: 22.38 m.p.g. And that, friends, took top honors for Chevy, from every full-sized car!

higher trade-in

N.A.D.A.* Guide Books prove that your Chevrolet will keep its value. Chevy used car prices last year, for example, averaged up to $128 higher than comparable models of the other two cars in Chevrolet's field.

COUNTRY FLAVOR
COWS' TAILS

In the midst of world tensions and the local problem of getting folks to serve on P.T.A. committees, the matter of cows' tails may not seem pressingly crucial to urbanites who take bottles of milk for granted. But the countryman who sits down to milk buttercup these humid evenings is wondering if something cannot be done.

The ways humans swing their tails to wish off peevishness have concerned farm students for a long time. In the March, 1959, issue of the New England Farmer, a writer puts it succinctly. "Everyone who has gumption enough to milk a cow, has experienced the miseries of a rap now and then over the ears, and sometimes on the face and eyes by that effective fly brusher—the cow's tail."

"This is the most troublesome in fly time; but sometimes a cow, either being naturally ticklish, or uneasy from some other cause, will use her lash in mid-winter when that appendage is not in a condition to give you a very favorable idea of its savor or odoriferous condition."

Experimentally-minded farmers have tried various methods and techniques to overcome the hovering hazard of the whip lash tail. It is disconcerting, to put it mildly, to be sending rhythmic white arrows of milk into a head of foaming white froth, and to see from the corner of one's eye that caudal appendage starting a purposeful arc that will wrap the whip around one's ears. We do not know the answer. We do know that a cow's tail is a problem in fly time. In this

MAN'S RECIPE

DATE-PECAN PUDDING

Scientists say that dates are one of the oldest fruits cultivated by man. Date groves around the desert oases were for many centuries vital to Arabia. Today in California it takes about 10 feet of irrigation water per season to mature a crop.

Dates were introduced into the United States in the early years of this century. Arizona cultivates about 100 acres of the majestic trees and California about 5000 acres.

The blossoms must be hand pollinated, and one male tree is grown for about each 50 females. About three months after pollination, the bunches of fruit are tied in paper bags as protection against rain and birds. Rain is an enemy, for it causes the fruit to rot.

Today's pudding is rich and hearty. Use one cup dates cut into small pieces, one cup broken pecans, two thirds cup sugar, one tablespoon flour, one teaspoon baking powder, two eggs separated, one fourth cup cream, one half teaspoon vanilla.

Mix by hand the dates, pecans, sugar, flour and baking powder. Separate the two eggs. To the yolks add the cream and vanilla. Mix slightly with a fork, then add to the date-nut mixture.

Beat the egg whites until stiff and fold into the mixture. Pour into a buttered casserole and bake at 350 in a pan of water until a cheese crust forms on top. Serve hot or cold with heavy cream.

In the scientific era, some research might well be devoted to this agrarian problem.

lumba, or anything that may lurk in the darkness. But they say it because they realize that there is a definite limit to what a human being can do in his own strength.

They have tried, and found that it is true for their own lives: "It is too dark a night to go out without one's father."

But the testimony of religious faith is simple and unequivocal. You don't need to go out without your father, your Heavenly Father.

Centuries ago, the Psalmist wrote: "Thou shalt not be afraid for the terror by night; nor for the arrow that flieth by day, nor for the pestilence that walketh in darkness; nor for the destruction that wasteth at noonday, because thou hast made The Lord, even the most high, thy habitation." LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

The Bethel Citizen
Bethel, Maine

Gentlemen:

I have just returned from a two weeks vacation in Bethel. It is a delightful place with charming people BUT there was one and aspect which I will hold in my memory always. One goes to Maine to enjoy the beauties of the countryside—not only in Bethel but in many other towns the roadside under the power and telephone lines has been sprayed to kill all vegetation. The result is dead brown vegetation, an eye sore to the traveler. The purpose of this spraying, I am told, is to make a financial short-cut in these communities as the labor of cutting the undergrowth is more expensive.

May I say that I saw no such new conditions in New Hampshire.

Very truly yours,

SALVATION ARMY LEADER

TO SPEAK

Commissioner William J. Bray, International Chief of Staff of The Salvation Army, will speak on the opening week end of The Army's Camp Meetings at Old Orchard, Maine, on Saturday, August 8th, and Sunday, August 9th. Commissioner Bray is second only to General Wilfred Kitchen, in command of the world-wide forces of The Salvation Army, and comes to New England after visiting many of the trouble spots of the "Cold War" world.

Few travelers speak with such assurance of the international situation, at "the people's level." Commissioner Bray will speak on Saturday evening, and

A TRIBUTE TO A BELOVED NEIGHBOR

All of us, as we walk along the Road of which we call Life, have many acquaintances and casual friends, but it is only once in a great while that we are privileged to meet someone who, from the start, strikes a responsive chord in our heart, so that it immediately seems as though we had known and loved them for always. Such a friend was our neighbor, "Pa" Swain, and it seems fitting that we pause in the regular routine of our lives to pay tribute to our much loved neighbor, whose unflinching devotion combined with his willing hands have done so much.

His life was a shining example of tolerance and good citizenship. Cheerfully, wholeheartedly, and without reservation he gave much to help others be just a little happier in their daily lives.

His devotion to his family was very heartwarming, his complete happiness lay in the comfort of his beloved wife, children and grandchildren. The neighborhood children will always remember his gentle and sweet friendliness in doing something to merit their admiration. His cheery smile and unselfish deeds for others' happiness will ever be an inspiration and a benediction.

The world has been a better place by him being here. And Heaven is richer now now that he is there, for

"He took the life God loaned to him in trust,

And lived it day by day in faith that man

Can do no less for Him than use God's loan

Of life to serve mankind along the way."

ELECTRONICS AND THE CAPITAL GOODS PROGRAM

A recent survey by the National Industrial Conference Board (sponsored by NEWSWEEK) indicated that an upturn in capital goods expenditures was visible each expenditure to new plant and equipment, especially heavy machinery and machine tools, office equipment, electronic computing machines and automatic control systems are also showing increased importance in the capital goods program. Many of these items are important not only because they reduce the number of personnel required but also for their high degree of accuracy in many operations.

One of the fast-growing sections of the capital goods industry is the electronic equipment used to large part in the differentiation between capital goods and consumer goods which have been added to a great extent in the electronic industry. As the electronic industry grows, it will also be the principal operating centers in many fields, such as defense, transportation and health care, and they will be used in a wide variety of scientific and industrial applications.

Finally, there are other industrial and commercial uses of electronic equipment including information processing, data transmission, and data storage. Electronic equipment is used in many fields for analysis and protective purposes, and in many fields for information processing and data storage.

There are several companies in the commercial electronics field. These include the following: General Electric, IBM, and RCA. These companies are working on a variety of electronic equipment, including computers, communication systems, and control systems.
